

THE PASSING OF A PIONEER

Death Summons George W. Titsworth of Noble Township.

Was a Scout in the Civil War—
Death Was Due to Cancer.

George W. Titsworth, one of Rush county's most respected and widely known residents, died at noon Sunday at his home in Noble township of cancer, following an illness that extended over a period of three years.

For several days Mr. Titsworth had been in a serious condition and death did not come unexpected. He had been a most patient sufferer, but the battle was an uneven one and he was unable to stay the end.

Mr. Titsworth was born at Orange, Fayette county, February 10th, 1839, and was sixty-eight years old. When he was about four years of age his parents moved to Wabash county, where they died, leaving him an orphan at the age of nine. He made his way, grew into manhood and enlisted in Troop L, of the Third Ind. Cavalry regiment, at the outbreak of the Civil war. He served for over three years and was promoted to 1st Sergeant of the troop. He served under that brave and daring fighter, General Kilpatrick and was with the Union troops that captured General Morgan, the perpetrator of the famous raid. He was with General Sherman on his march to the sea and devoted much of his time to service as an individual scout, for which he was especially fitted.

He was a farmer by occupation and was possessed of considerable property. He resided on his Union township farm for thirty-five years.

February 10th, 1869, he married Rhoda J. Applegate, who with two sons, John A. Titsworth, of this city, a member of the law firm of Watson, Titsworth & Green, and Roscoe Titsworth, of Noble township, survive.

Mr. Titsworth was an ardent Republican, but was never elected to office, save to that of county councilman, which he held at the time of his death. He was a member of the Little Flatrock Christian church, having united with the church early in life. He was an active and industrious man, kind hearted and good natured and in every respect symbolized a good and useful citizen.

The funeral service will be held at the late residence Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Mr. A. W. Conner, of Lafayette, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Frank B. Thomas, pastor of Little Flatrock church. Interment will be in East Hill cemetery.

ANNUAL SERVICE OF THANKSGIVING

Colored Odd Fellows Will Meet

The lodges will form at the lodge room on Second street and will march to the Second Baptist church. Sermon will be preached by Rev. E. B. Skelton. Visitors are expected from Shelbyville, New Castle and other surrounding towns.

Sunday about thirty colored people, members of these two lodges, went to Shelbyville to attend the Thanksgiving services there.

—Mrs. Oscar Mallory, of Connersville, visited relatives and friends here yesterday.

DEATH OF FORMER MILROY BUTCHER

James W. McGrew, of West Indianapolis, Succumbs to Heart Disease.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Indianapolis, May 14.—The funeral of James W. McGrew, who died Saturday night at his home in West Indianapolis, will be held Tuesday afternoon. The death of Mr. McGrew resulted from heart disease, with which he had been afflicted for several years.

He was born in Greensburg, Ind., December 25th, 1854, but with his parents removed to Rush county in 1870, living first at New Salem and then at Glenwood. In July of 1882 he married Miss Olive E. Thompson, of Glenwood, who survives him. He and his wife moved to Milroy in June of 1883, where he engaged in the butcher business, carrying on a wagon trade within a radius of ten miles of the town. In November of 1892 they removed to West Indianapolis and had since lived there.

At the time of his death he was a member of the commission firm of the McGrew-Atkinson company. He was a member of the Masons, the Odd Fellows, the Knights of Pythias, the Scottish Rite, the Modern Woodmen and the Tribe of Ben Hur.

MILROY MAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

W. L. McKee Nearly Meets Death at the Hands of a Train at Greensburg.

Saturday's Greensburg News says: "W. L. McKee, a well known hardware man from Milroy, had a narrow escape from being ground to death under the wheels of a passenger train at the depot this morning. Mr. McKee came down on the 8:50 train from Milroy which arrived at the station just as the nine o'clock train was pulling in from the east. The Milroy train comes into the station on the second track and the train from the east pulls in on the first track. The train from the east had been stopped while the passengers from the nine o'clock accommodation from the west had unloaded, and when the east-bound train pulled down to allow the train from the north to get down to the station, the west-bound train started to move up slowly. Mr. McKee had just stepped from his train and started to cross the track when some one spoke to him from the train he had just left, and he turned to the speaker. As he turned, the pilot on the locomotive struck him and the crowd about the station cried out in horror, expecting to see him ground to death. Mr. McKee, when struck, threw back his hands and catching a projection of the cow catcher, pulled himself out of danger and hung there until the train was stopped. When he got on his feet again Mr. McKee was the most collected man in the crowd, which surged excitedly about him. His only injuries were a few scratches on the hand and a slight bruise on his right side."

DIVORCE IS REFUSED EITHER OF THE PARTIES

Judge Sparks has refused a divorce to Edward Floyd from his wife, Etta Floyd, on his complaint and has refused Etta Floyd a divorce on her cross complaint. The costs of the case have been assessed against both parties.

For years the crowded provinces of China have been disgorging their surplus population into Manchuria, where homes or land could be had at prices usually below the cheapest government land in America.

DEATH WAS INEVITABLE

After Useful Life and Faithful Service for More than 73 Years.

The Mourners are Many and Some May Never Recover From Loss Sustained.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Orange, Ind., May 14.—Died at her old home in Orange, Fayette county, where she was born February 8th, 1833, and where she lived all her life, serving the people of Orange faithfully for more than seventy-three years, Miss Orange Postoffice, an elderly maiden lady, aged 73 years, 3 months and 6 days, after a long and lingering sickness, she having been afflicted for more than three years.

The immediate cause of her death was strangulation—strangled to death by the very people whom she had given her life-work to serve and accommodate them, and rendering service that no one else would supply. Strangulation, the disease that caused the death of the old lady, was inoculated into her system by a tramp post-office, whose name is R. F. D. His work, with the assistance of a few thick-headed and thoughtless citizens of Orange (the word thoughtless is used advisedly for the reason that their heads contained no material to think with) was too much for her delicate constitution and the end was inevitable.

The names of the people that assisted R. F. D. in his work of strangulation can be found on the R. F. D. mail boxes that were unlawfully erected within a radius of a half a mile of the former residence of the deceased.

There are many mourners who deeply feel the loss of the old lady. It is thought that some of the mourners will never recover from the shock caused by the death of Miss Orange Postoffice. The last six years of her life she gave the people more and better service than they ever had, and yet they strangled her to death. Peace to her ashes, and may the Lord forgive them for they know not what they did.

The Ladies of the Big Flatrock Church are Pleased With the Result.

The name quilt made by the ladies of the Big Flatrock Christian church, was sold to the highest bidder at the church, on Saturday, May 5th. It was bought by Noah Tryon for $90. The total amount raised by the ladies on the quilt was $100.00, and with the $20 received at the sale, at total of $120.00. The cost of lining the quilt was $5.29, leaving a net balance of $114.71, which amount will be used for the purchase of new pews for the church.

The amounts raised by the individual ladies was as follows:

"BLIND CHARLIE" PASSES AWAY

Blind Man Who Played Violin on Rushville Streets is Dead at Elwood.

Charles Beck, the blind fiddler, committed suicide at Elwood Friday, by taking carbolic acid. It is said that this is Blind Charlie, the fiddler known on every street corner from Hartford City to Marion, and from Kokomo to Rushville. He was the old-time fiddler, with an occasional song about Bobby Ford, the "dirty little coward, who laid Jesse James in the shade."

Charlie married a few years ago and had a wife and home in Pendleton. It is said that his domestic relations have not been pleasant.

If this is the same Charlie, Rushville people will miss him. His stand was on the corner of Main and Second streets, and thousands would scarcely number the nickles that have been dropped into his tin cup for another tune on his old fiddle.

WILL CASE IS NOW ON TRIAL

Roach Heirs are Fighting For the Property—Rushville Witnesses.

A large number of Rushville people went to New Castle today, where they were called as witnesses in the Roach-Amos case, contesting the will of the late Ann McCarty.

Mr. McCarty, it will be remembered died April 16th, 1904, leaving $500 and a piece of property on North Perkins street, this city to Thomas Amos and family, who had cared for her. The plaintiffs in the suit are heirs of the deceased. St. Mary's Catholic church, of this city, is also one of the parties to the suit.

Twenty-eight witnesses have been subpoenaed from this city for the trial. The plaintiff's witnesses are: M. Curran and wife, Frank Porter and wife, Rev. P. H. Rowan, Mrs. Emma Keaton, Mrs. Michael Canley, Sarah Geraghty, Michael O'Reilly, Mrs. James Barrett, Mrs. Patrick Barrett and Mrs. William O'Neil.

The defendant's witnesses are: Mrs. Sarah Pugh, A. B. Flinn, Charles Norris, Frank Porer, Sex Hilligoss, Michael O'Neil, Mrs. Mary Caldwell, Mrs. Patrick Barrett, Kate Nolan, W. A. Caldwell, Fred Caldwell, Emma Caldwell, Mrs. Fred Caldwell, William Wallace and John W. Stiers.

Megee & Kiplinger are the attorneys for the plaintiff, and Innis & Morgan are the attorneys for the defendant.

THINKS REPUBLICAN HAS A RIGHT TO KICK

The Shelbyville Morning News says, "The Rushville Republican is kicking, and it has a right to kick good and hard." And then after reproducing the article from the Republican on that subject, it concludes:

"The Republican of Rushville is not the only paper in the State that has a kick coming on account of the commissioners getting the county job printing done outside of their county. It should not be done under any circumstances. The county commissioners should stand by their home people all the time, and we hope that our Republican commissioners in Shelby county, when they come to letting the county printing contract this fall, will see to it that some newspaper in Shelbyville gets the contract."

Jefferson F. Henderson, administrator of the estate of Daniel Query, deceased today filed a petition in the circuit court to sell real estate, belonging to the estate to pay the debts. Lucinda and Jacob Query and others are made defendants.

AN EXCITING DOG CHASE

Animal Believed to Have Been Mad is Finally Killed.

Policeman and Citizens Join in Chase—Dog Shot Five Times.

Running at breakneck speed, down streets, through alleys, over lawns and through back yards, a large yellow dog, with a white band about his neck, pursued by Policeman Price, Charles Frazee, Clyde Miller, Will O'Neil, Charles Brown and fifteen or twenty others, armed with clubs, revolvers, shotguns and other artillery, caused considerable excitement in that part of the city, south of Third street this afternoon.

The dog had been biting dogs in that part of town and had been acting strangely for two or three days. The animal had been following one of Pinnell & Tompkins' lumber wagons, but belonged to no one in particular. Policeman Price had been looking for him all day and about 2 o'clock he saw him crossing the street in front of the county jail. Whipping out his revolver the policeman shot and injured him. Then the chase began.

The dog darted through the alleys about the hitchrack and then up Main street with the policeman and a number of citizens in pursuit. The animal turned west, keeping to the alleys, and ran across lawns and backyards until it reached Second street. Near Pearl street two more shots were fired into its body. Unmindful, however, the animal, covered with blood and frothing at the mouth, ran on with bloodshot and bulging eyes, and turning out of the way for no one. Several people escaped being bitten. The men followed the dog about, being afraid to shoot at times lest someone be killed. The shots brought crowds into the streets and the mob in pursuit gained in number.

Finally the beast ran down Water street and plunging into the creek swam across and took out toward Circleville, going through Riverside park. Some of the men continued in pursuit, but Policeman Price and Clyde Miller leaped into a buggy and drove rapidly to Circleville, where, after lying in wait for some time, they met the animal coming up the road from the Rushville brick works. Two more bullets brought him down and Policeman Price, at close range, blew out the animal's brains.

"I never saw a dog so hard to kill," said the policeman afterward. "He did not seem to feel that he was full of holes. He acted just like a mad dog in every way, and I am convinced that he was mad. He seized a little black curly dog by the neck on Second street, and I could have shot him as he hung on to the dog, but I was afraid of killing the other one."

It develops that the maddened animal bit dogs belonging to Hugo Schmalzel, John Kennard and Elza Powell. One of these has already been shot and the police are looking for the others. It is said that that Watt Bartlett is close on the trail of the police.

EFFECTS OF THE DROUTH

According to Present Prospects Rush County Crops Will Suffer.

Up till two weeks ago there was a prospect for the greatest wheat crop that had ever been known in Rush county. But on account of the present drought, the yield will be greatly diminished, even if it rains in a short time. The black upland ground seems to be suffering more than any other. There the wheat is rolling up and, as one farmer asserted today, in another week, it will readily burn. Not only the wheat crop is hurt, but the oats crop is almost destroyed. Practically ever since the oats were sown, their has been no rain, consequently they only sprouted and are now withered and dead.

The farmers have worn out everything on their places—horses, implements, help—in fact, all except the clouds which are still turning their round glossy faces to the sun in triumph. Hence the corn that has been planted is yet in the soil dry as it was when in the crib. Ants and other insects are eating on the heart of the corn.

HIGH SCHOOL RECORDS BROKEN

Third Annual High School Interscholastic Field Meet at Bloomington.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Bloomington, Ind., May 14.—At the Third Annual Invitational High School Interscholastic track and field meet held at Bloomington Saturday, by Indiana University, five State high records were broken. Considering the number of high school athletes entered, the meet was a great success. Most of the records broken have been standing since 1903.

McClarty, of Louisville, put the shot 46 feet 6 inches, beating the former record 3 inches. This record will not stand, however, as McClarty is not from an Indiana high school. Stockton, of Monticello, threw the discus 103½ feet, beating the former record 6 inches. In the quarter mile run Sherlie Deming, of F. T. H. S., reduced the State record from 54 seconds to 53.2. In the running broad jump, Lindley, of Westfield, broke the record, going 21 feet 7½ inches. Perhaps the prettiest event of the meet was the pole vaulting of Morgan, of Rensselaer. He cleared the bar at 10 feet 8½ inches. The former record was 10 feet 6 inches.

Morgan, of Rensselaer, and Deming, of M. T. H. S., Indianapolis, were the stars at the meet, each taking three firsts.

The final results were: Bloomington, 8; M. T. H. S., 28; Monticello, 8; Rensselaer, 25; Sheridan, 8; University Flexner school, Louisville, 19; Union High Academy, Westfield, 6.

CLAUDE SIMPSON

DISREGARDS WARNING

Abraham Reed, an aged farmer, living near St. Paul, sacrificed his life to satisfy his longing for a piece of gooseberry pie. Mr. Reed, who has been very ill for several weeks, arose the other night while the rest of the family was asleep, stole to the pantry and ate a piece of the forbidden pie. He immediately suffered a relapse and died Friday night. Mr. Reed was stricken with typhoid fever a few weeks ago and was apparently on the road to health until five days ago. Then he expressed a desire for a piece of gooseberry pie, his favorite pastry. Although warned against eating the pie, he arose in the night and ate a piece. A widow and six sons and four daughters survive. He owned one of the best farms in Shelby county.

TEAM IS A STRONG ONE

Rushville Amateur Bunch Shows Unexpected Strength.

Team Stands Undefeated—The Indianapolis Athletic Beaters 11 to 5.

Rushville's new base ball team showed unexpected strength in Sunday's game with the Athletics of Indianapolis. In a one-sided swat feat that lasted for the full nine innings, the locals got away with the long end of the score and added another victory to their string. The way in which the locals kept the visitors bounding after hits was a caution. Nearly every man up cracked out a bingle just at the right time. The second inning was purely of the hit and run variety and four scores were tabbed before the session was over.

Schaltz, who officiated as back-stop for Rushville, proved himself a ball player in every sense of the word. His batting and fielding was the feature of the game. Stiers, Combs, Yazel, Geraghty and Casady were close behind him on the role of honor. Hendricks made a beautiful one-handed stop and double play unassisted in the first inning, when two men were on base and only one man was down.

Geraghty pitched a good game, striking out five of the first men up. He had good speed and control and kept the hits well scattered. The visitors runs were scored on errors by Demmer, Hendricks, Combs and Schaltz. Sager did not pitch a bad game for the visitors.

Rushville lined up as follows: Geraghty, p.; Schaltz, c.; Casady, 1b.; Yazel, 2b.; Stiers, ss.; Hendricks, 3b.; Combs, lf.; Demmer, cf.; O'Neil, rf.; Score

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R H E
Rushville 0 4 2 1 2 0 2 0 x—11 15 4
Athletics 0 0 0 1 0 2 0 2 0—5 6 3

Batteries, Geraghty and Schaltz, Sager and Bartell; struck out, by Geraghty 7, by Sager 4; bases on balls, off Geraghty 2, off Sager 3; double plays, Hendricks, unassisted. Stiers, Yazel and Casady; three base hit, Stiers; two base hit, Yazel; umpire, Yazel; attendance 400.

SOCIETY NEWS

Invitations were issued this afternoon for the annual commencement dance of the Rushville high school. The dance will be given in the Woodmen's hall on the evening of Friday, May 25th. Schnur's orchestra, of Columbus, will furnish the music. The decorations in the hall will consist chiefly of streamers of gold and royal purple, the colors of the graduating class. Beautiful programs, printed in red and black, the high school colors will be issued. A large number of out-of-town guests are expected to be present.

Mrs. Ora Wilson, 909 North Main street, entertained the twenty-five members of the Monday Circle and about as many invited guests at a Dutch breakfast this morning. The rooms were decorated in Dutch colors, pictures and designs. The Dutch idea was also carried out in table designs, potted red geraniums forming the floral decorations. The hostess and her assistants were attired in Dutch costumes. As the guests marched down the staircase to breakfast the refreshment committee executed a Dutch dance to music played by Miss Mariam Wilson. The breakfast menu included: Dutch raisin bread, poached eggs and cheese, cold ham, orange salad, strawberries and cream, with Dutch cake and tea and milk. At the conclusion of the breakfast, Miss Anna Mullin read a paper on "Dikes, Windmills and Canals." Miss Ida Spurrier gave a reading, the subject being "The Boy of the Dike," and Mrs. T. A. Craig and Miss Spurrier sang in duet, Neidlinger's "O, That we Two were Maying."

RUSHVILLE, IND., MAY 14, 1906
A NEW ELEMENT

May Be Injected Into the Political Sit- uation in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 14.—Labor candidates for congress will probably be nominated in the Second, Fifth, Seventh and Twelfth districts. It was learned today that about a month ago a number of prominent labor leaders held a secret conference here and determined to nominate candidates in the districts mentioned. If conditions are favorable they may also nominate a congressional candidate in the Thirteenth. It is supposed that the Indiana labor leaders were inspired by the threat recently made by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, that he and his constituents would carry their fight into politics if necessary to get from congress what they consider a square deal in legislation. The Indiana leaders, it is said, hope to be able to solidify the labor vote and show to the politicians of the old parties that they will have to be recognized. There is no possibility of a candidate for congress in this state being elected on a labor ticket and the men who accept the nominations will do so with that understanding, but they may be able to cause the old parties a lot of trouble. In the districts named there is an immense union labor vote. In the Second and Twelfth there are thousands of miners among whom there is a condition of unrest on account of the troubles they have experienced in getting a wage scale for this year. Wages have been good among them, but they did not average three days' work a week last year, and the cost of living was higher than ever before. If the miners should cut the old parties cold in the Second and Fifth it would be difficult to forecast who would win. In this district there are several thousand unionists, but they have never voted together on any proposition. They have it within their power, however, to elect or defeat either one of the old parties. Edgar A. Perkins, president of the State Federation of Labor, may run for congress in this district. In the Twelfth district the labor unionists have shown a disposition to stick together on a number of political propositions, and there has been talk among them for several weeks of bringing out a congressional candidate. The labor leaders are now looking over the field at South Bend, Elkhart, Goshen, Mishawaka and other places to see whether or not there is an opening for a ticket in the Thirteenth district.

The following list of candidates for places on the Democratic state ticket was given out today by Secretary Reiley: For secretary of state, James F. Cox, Columbus, Mayor George R. Duran, Lafayette; for auditor of state, Marion Bajer, Hendricks county, J. R. Riggs, Sullivan; for state treasurer, John Isenbarger, North Manchester, Louis Fox, Fort Wayne; for attorney general, Joe Shea, Seymour; for clerk of the supreme court, Bert New, North Vernon, Jesse C. Fletcher, Knox, J. Fred France, mayor of Huntington; for state statistician, D. N. Curry, Shelby; judges of supreme court, Judge E. A. Ely, Petersburg, Judge R. K. Erwin, Decatur, B. C. Moon, Kokomo; for judges appellate court, northern district, Judge Cox, Peru, Richard Hartford, Portland, Henry Steis, Winamac; southern district, Judge Felt, Greenfield, Judge Harris Sullivan; for superintendent of public instruction, John W. Reddick, Winamac. The list will probably be increased within the next three weeks. The fact that so many men are anxious to get a place on the ticket is convincing to the leaders that there is a better feeling in the party than there has been for several years.

Word was received at the national headquarters of the miners today that the "stand pat" operators of the Ohio bituminous coal fields will soon attempt to break the strike by employing non-union men. A number of locals in Ohio report that preparations are now being made by the operators, who will post notices the first of the week offering employment to all who desire work at the old scale of wages. The operators will try to establish the open shop basis. It is feared at the headquarters that an attempt to open the mines with non-union men will result in serious trouble. It has been rumored here for several days among the coal dealers that an effort will be made by some of the Indiana operators to run their property non-union unless the miners yield to their demands. It is also believed that many of the Illinois operators are getting ready to import non-unionists. The national officials of the mine workers are now anticipating some aggressive move on the part of the operators.

Big Loss in Naval Stores.
 Gulfport, Miss., May 14.—The enormous plant of the New Orleans Naval Stores company and S. Shetter & Co., were totally destroyed by fire Sunday, six acres occupied by the rosin yard, warehouses, commissary and storage rooms being entirely swept by the flames. The fire is supposed to have originated in loose hay in the commissary. Loss was about $400,000 with $300,000 insurance.

Embezzlement Is Charged.
 Duluth, Minn., May 14.—Charles M. Case of the real estate firm of Rentsch & Case of Indianapolis, was arrested here Sunday at the request of the authorities of that city. The officers here were advised that he was wanted for embezzlement, and the amount is said to have been $750. Mr. Case says he is not guilty. He says he will not resist extradition.

FACTS THAT ARE FACTS

(The following expression of opinion is by Edward Molloy, editor of the LaPorte Herald. It is one of a series of signed editorials prepared by Republican newspaper men of the state, for the publication of which in this paper arrangements have been perfected.)

The Democratic papers seek to criticize Congressman Brick's keynote speech. They say that he "extolled the Republican party for the conditions that had been brought about by favorable seasons, which gave the farmers abundant crops and brought them whatever prosperity they enjoy. He also indulged," they say, "in the proverbial clap-trap about the panic of 1893, which everybody knows was the result of Republican administration, and came before the Democratic party had written a line of its legislation on the statute books."

Now mark how plain a tale shall put them down. We had good crops under both Buchanan and Cleveland, both Democratic presidents, and yet we had the vilest of times. Wheat was worth only 50 cents a bushel under Cleveland's administration. It's true that "the panic of 1893 came before the Democratic party had written a line of its legislation on the statute books."

The country didn't want to wait for the party to do a thing. The fact that it was in power was enough to cause a shrinkage in capital, which produced the financial earthquake that shook the country's very foundations. The nation stood amazed—appalled—at the result of the election, but it was not till about February, 1895, when Mr. Roach, of Dakota, was elected to the United States senate and the Democratic party secured a majority in both branches of congress that Satan was to pay. That's what made the panic, the promise of the Democratic party, if it ever had the power, to repeal the protective tariff law on the ground that it was robbery and was unconstitutional. The people at once got their eyes open. They saw that they had made a great mistake—had been guilty of a grievous error—and they hastened to retrieve themselves. After that they didn't seem to care what the Democratic leaders thought, said or did. They felt that they had already had enough of the Democratic party and its leaders' machinations, and so at the first opportunity, even before the Wilson bill was passed, the people in the Indianapolis city election in November, 1893, completely reversed the result of the previous city election, electing the Republican ticket by an overwhelming majority. In the fall elections of the succeeding year there was a Republican triumph everywhere. This state went 45,000 Republican, which it doubled in 1904, just ten years from that time. At the spring elections following, nearly every city in this state elected a Republican mayor. The people everywhere had had enough of Democracy to do them at least for a generation. William McKinley was nominated for president. What was his first act? His first act was to say something. He could not do anything. He was not situated so he could do anything. He could only think and talk as yet, but he knew just what to say and how to say it. A man must at least think before he can either talk or act. What did he say? Anything about the crops? How did he or any man know about the crops? Only God Almighty knows in advance about such things. Mr. McKinley said:

"Our farmers have been hurt by the changes in our tariff legislation as severely as our laborers and manufacturers, badly as they have suffered. The Republican platform wisely declares in favor of such encouragement to our sugar interests 'as will lead to the production on American soil of all the sugar which the American people use.' It promises to our wool and woolen interests 'the most ample protection,' a guaranty that ought to commend itself to every patriotic citizen. Never was a more grievous wrong done the farmers of our country than that so unjustly inflicted during the past three years upon the wool growers of America. Although among our most industrious and useful citizens, their interests have been practically destroyed."

What further did Mr. McKinley say? "It is not an increase in the volume of money which is the need of the times, but an increase in the volume of business; not increase of coin, but an increase of confidence; not more coinage, but a more active use of the money coined; not open mints for the unlimited coinage of the silver of the world, but open mints for the full and unrestricted labor of American workmen. * * * The first duty of the Republican party, if restored to power in the country, will be the enactment of a tariff law which will raise all the money necessary to conduct the government, economically and honestly administered, and so adjusted as to give preference to home manufacturers and adequate protection to home labor and the home market."

Nothing about crops there! The Republican party never tries to interfere with Providence. The first act of Mr. McKinley's administration was to call an extra session of congress to enact a protective tariff law, and set the wheels of prosperity whirling and the machinery of prosperity whirling. From that moment may be dated the actual change in the nation's condition, although the people experienced a feeling of assurance from the moment the count of the figures of the Republican majority at Indianapolis was completed. These are facts which cannot be gainsaid. They are a part of American history which is indelibly impressed on the minds of the American people.

PERSONAL MATTER

The President and Tillman Locked on a Question of Veracity.

SENATORIAL SENSATION

President Brands a Statement Made by Senator Tillman on the Floor as "an Unqualified Falsehood."

The South Carolinian Comes Back With Some Strong Support From Senator Chandler.

Washington, May 14.—Senator Tillman, who Saturday made a statement in the senate covering the details of his and Senator Bailey's negotiations through ex-Senator Chandler with President Roosevelt regarding the railroad rate bill, last night made public a portion of a written statement made to him by Mr. Chandler of his various conferences with the president on this subject. The portion given out by Mr. Tillman is largely a repetition of the first part of his statement in the senate Saturday. It covers, however, that portion where Mr. Tillman had quoted Mr. Chandler as saying that the president had stated that he had come to a complete disagreement with the senatorial lawyers who were trying to defeat or injure the bill, naming Messrs. Knox, Spooner and Foraker, regarding which statement Senator Lodge subsequently said he was authorized to say from the White House that it was an unqualified falsehood. On this subject Mr. Chandler, referring to the president, said in his written statement:

"He said that he had been much troubled by the advocacy of an unlimited court review by some of the lawyers of the senate, naming Senators Knox, Spooner and Foraker as trying to injure or defeat the bill by ingenious constitutional arguments, but that he had come to a complete disagreement with them. He made this point emphatic by repetition."

The statement given out by Mr. Tillman follows:

"Senator Tillman said today that on Saturday, May 5, he insisted on having from ex-Senator Chandler a written statement of the various conferences by the latter in connection with the plan of the president to control the railroad rate legislation by alliance with the Democrats of the senate, and Mr. Chandler gave him such a statement made prior to Saturday, May 12, and signed by Mr. Chandler. Mr. Tillman said that he would give out a portion of that statement relating to the interview of Mr. Chandler with the president on March 31, which had become a subject matter of dispute, but would retain the remainder for use in case any other parts of his statement in the senate on Saturday should be denied."

The following is the portion of Mr. Chandler's statement given out by Mr. Tillman:

"On Saturday afternoon, March 31, 1906, a friend of mine came into my office and told me of the White House conference on that day in which an understanding as to a limited court review had been reached with Senator Long and others, and he told me that the president wished to get into communication with the Democrats and would shortly ask me to come and see him. While he was talking a messenger boy arrived with a letter to me from Mr. Loeb, as follows: "My Dear Senator Chandler—The president requests me to say that he would be glad to have you come to the White House to see him at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Will you please let the bearer know whether you can come?" I told the messenger I would be there."

"At the time and place appointed the president said to me that he wished through me to get into communication with Mr. Tillman, Mr. Bailey and other Democratic senators. He stated his purpose slowly and carefully. That evening I saw Mr. Tillman and told him what had occurred."

Senator Tillman's statement in the senate Saturday is the principal subject of discussion in official circles. The senator had a number of callers at his apartments Sunday, with whom he talked freely about the matter, among whom were Senator Bailey and ex-Senator Chandler. Mr. Chandler has been urged by some of his friends to make public a statement over his own signature regarding the denial by Senator Lodge of the accuracy of the president's remarks in reference to Senators Spooner, Knox and Foraker. He declined, however, to be further brought into the controversy at this time, saying he would let the matter for the present rest on the statement made public by Mr. Tillman. It was with Mr. Chandler's consent that the portion of his written statement to Mr. Tillman of his conferences with the president was made public.

SENTENCE EXECUTED ..

It Is Now Pretty Clear That Father Gapon Was Done Away With.

St. Petersburg, May 14.—The mystery of the fate of Father Gapon apparently was cleared up Sunday by the discovery of a corpse which was almost positively identified as that of the former priest, hanging in the upper chamber of a lonely summer villa in the suburb of Ozerki, Finland. The villa was rented April 8 for the summer and a deposit paid by an unknown man from St. Petersburg, who after visiting the house several times in company with a young workman, disappeared April 11, taking the key with him. The proprietress of the villa, alarmed at the non-appearance of the tenant, notified the police, who entered the house. Breaking down a door, they were confronted by a body in a long coat hanging from a nail, the feet touching the floor. Decomposition of the face made positive identification difficult, but the features resembled those of Gapon and the clothing corresponded with that worn by the missing labor leader. As the usual symptoms of strangulation were absent, it is conjectured the man was killed elsewhere and his body brought to the villa on the night of April 10. This would agree with the date of execution of Gapon given in the information of the secret police and with the death sentence of the former priest as announced in recent dispatches from Berlin.

Turkish Sultan Knew How Far to Go With England.

Constantinople, May 14.—Tabah has been evacuated by the Turkish troops by order of the sultan. The port's reply on Friday to the British note agreed to the evacuation of Tabah and to the appointment of a commission for the delimitation of the boundary, but it was couched in such terms as to make it not acceptable to Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British ambassador, and he has insisted on complete satisfaction being given before the expiration of the limit set by the British note. It is fully expected that this will be accorded.

Sultan Sends Apologies.

Constantinople, May 14.—The porte has replied to Germany's protest against the boarding and detention of the German sailing ship Odysseus by Turkish officials recently while the vessel was discharging cargo at Chibuklu. The reply expresses regret at the occurrence and promises to punish the officials responsible for it; but it proposes a reduction of the indemnity of $3,500 which Germany demanded. The German protest described the seizure of the Odysseus as an act of piracy.

WOUND UP IN FIGHT

Dowieites Carry Their Quarrel to the Fisticuff Stage.

Chicago, May 14.—A meeting over which John Alexander Dowie presided at Zion City Sunday afternoon was broken up by a number of followers of the opposing faction, assisted by several outsiders, and before the crowd dispersed a free fight occurred. Dowie was addressing the audience, numbering about 600, and made the statement that the overseers of the Voliva faction were thieves and robbers. At once a number of those in the audience were on their feet shouting, "No, no, you're the robber. Why don't you pay your debts?" The disturbance became so violent that a Zion guard was sent to restore order. The guard took hold of an old gray-headed man who was loudest in his demands for Dowie to pay his obligations, but this was a signal for a free fight.

A dozen men seized the guard and were about to drag him down the aisle, when Gladstone Dowie and Deacon Arrington mounted the platform and called upon the audience not to create a disturbance and to take their seats. After quiet had been restored Dowie again attempted to proceed, but he was jeered and called traitor and robber until he finally decided to dismiss the audience. A riot call was sent to the police station and Captain of Police Walker with four men hurried to the Tabernacle in a wagon. By the time the police arrived most of the audience had left the building. In the midst of the trouble Burleigh, the negro attendant of Dowie, rushed upon the platform and placed himself at the First Apostle's side, while those of the uniformed Zion guards who have taken sides with Dowie formed a line of defense in front of the platform. No attempt at violence was made against Dowie, however.

Dowie was so weak that he had to be carried from his carriage into the tabernacle by two attendants. It was announced at Shiloh House, however, that he had eaten a hearty dinner and that he felt no ill effects from the excitement of the afternoon.

At an after-meeting for Dowie adherents only, but which was invaded by a large number of those who were riotous at the former meeting, Dowie precipitated a second general disturbance. He caused to be read a letter from one of his supporters, stating that the writer's wife had passed safely through the crisis of a serious illness while Dowie prayed for her. This fact Dowie compared with the case of Mrs. Cantel, wife of an overseer, who died last Friday without medical attention while Voliva and his supporters were offering prayers for her recovery. Dowie declared that he feared the woman would die because she had associated herself with the rebels. Immediately there was a storm of hisses and shouts of "Shame, shame!" "There is death in store for more of you if this rebellion keeps on," continued Dowie. Again the people sprang from their chairs, shouting and gesticulating until the tumult became so general that Dowie was again obliged to bring the meeting to a close.

Feud Ends in Death.

Warsaw, Ind., May 14.—William Bates, sixty-five years old, a prominent farmer, was shot to death, and his son, Frank Bates, probably fatally wounded, in a frenzied attack made on them in Bourbon by Charles Reddinger, a neighbor of the Bates, who is now in the town lockup under a strong guard to prevent a threatened lynching by enraged residents of the little town. The tragedy was the climax of a feud which started last summer over a trivial dispute relative to a bill for threshing.

of the best ever held here. Supt. W. V. Mangrum, and Dr. W. W. Parsons preceded the large class to the platform and Prof. Orr followed the class. This group of twenty-one persons occupied about two-thirds of the large elevated stage. The Greenfield orchestra was seated at the north of the stage and played several splendid numbers. Supt. Mangrum introduced the speaker. Dr. Parsons said he remembered having delivered the address at the first commencement held in the school auditorium, and that he had pleasant recollections of our little village. The nucleus of his address was "why Indiana educates her citizens." He gave some interesting and startling statistics of the illiterate and degenerate citizens of the State and spoke optimistically of the splendid schools of the State. His address was full of wit and humor. He was compelled to leave immediately after the close of the speech. Supt. Mangrum, in a few forceful remarks, presented diplomas to the class—Florence Catt, Lois Hill, Marjory Hill, Venila Sample, Grace Reddick, Donnie Price, Alma Braden, Lois Binford, Court Hackleman, Howard Newsom, Fred White, Bing Powers, William Krammes, Russell Phelps, Mrel Coffin, Roy Bundy, Rupert Stanley and Byron Retherford. Several of the class will attend college next year. The stage was decorated with plants and the motto. A number of persons who were unable to obtain seats for commencement bought standing room.

THE NATIVE VIEW

Leading Filipinos Do Not Believe In Temporizing With Puljanas.

WAR OF EXTERMINATION

Leading Natives Hold That There Is But One Way to Reach the Bandits That Infest the Mountains.

Gov. Ide Receives a Plea to Proceed Against Bandits Until All Are Wiped Out.

Manila, May 14.—Superintendent of Schools Hoover of Samar and several native officials of that island have arrived here on their way to Baguio, province of Benguet, the summer capital, to visit Governor General Ide. Mr. Hoover says that 95 per cent of the natives of Samar are anxious for the extermination of the fanatics and the establishment of absolute peace. The native officials, he says, are organizing bands of volunteers who are scouring the mountains, guarding trails and capturing or killing outlaws. It is estimated that 300 Puljanas still remain in the mountains.

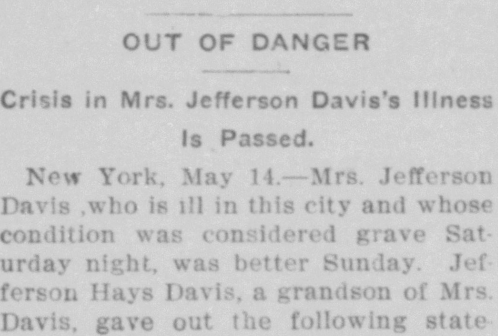

Governor Curry of Samar has proposed to turn over the Puljanas districts to the federal authorities for the establishment of martial law and the extermination of fanatics and General Wood agreeing, to place two regiments assisted by naval gunboats in the island and the adjacent waters in order to guard against the outlaws escaping to neighboring islands. Governor General Ide has reached no decision in the matter.

The Puljanas leader is sixty-four years old and has been in the mountains for forty years.

Parliamentary Program. St. Petersburg, May 14.—A committee of the lower house of the Russian parliament having been chosen to consider and make a report on the possible solution of the agrarian problem it is said that the sessions of the house will continue regularly until this all-important question is solved. The cry of "amnesty for political prisoners" has been raised and undoubtedly will be kept to the fore. The emperor has shown such a desire to act in accord with the parliament that order out of chaos may come sooner than even the most sanguine had hoped. This week will also see the preparation of the lower house's reply to the speech from the throne, after which it may be considered that the struggle of Russia's representatives for the rights of the people has begun.

A Maharajah Arrives. New York, May 14.—The Maharajah Gaekwar of Baroda, accompanied by his wife, the maharane and his brother Sampatras, landed Sunday from the steamer Celtic, which arrived from Liverpool. The Maharajah Gaekwar is the second greatest prince in all India and the direct descendant of one of the Mahatta generals who were the moguls or rulers of India when the East India company wrested control from them. He is the ruler of the state Baroda, which has a population of 2,000,000 and an area of 8,000 square miles. His brother acts as his secretary.

Justice vs. Sentiment.

(Fort Wayne News.)

The News is at a loss to understand why the supreme court should be called upon to break a precedent by advancing the Sherrick case for an immediate hearing. Mr. Sherrick had as fair a trial as could be asked for, was regularly convicted of a gross offense, and thereupon was relegated to the ranks of ordinary law-breakers. He is no better, no worse, and should fare as they fare. When his case comes up in its turn, it will be considered on its merits and a finding made accordingly. This is all that can in fairness be asked and all that in justice to others can be accorded.

GEMS OF POLITICAL THOUGHT

From the Speeches Made at the Recent State Convention.

Congressman Brick: I don't want to live in a political graveyard where the tombstone marks the grave of a dead desire.

There is no state in the Union that can boast of a more brilliant, industrious or effective delegation at the national capital than Indiana.

Is there anything in the shining sun or silver stars that makes you think you ought to have a change now?

Is there anybody in all this broad land today, Democrat or Republican, who could honestly tell you he would unwrite a single line of that imperishable record graven in the monumental bronze of our country's immortality by all the great Republicans from Abraham Lincoln, the kindest, gentlest, tenderest memory of the world, the grandest hero of its fiercest war, down to the latest utterance of that type and flower of robust, courageous, brave and true-hearted manhood, upright as the pine, a torchbearer of the American idea, the foremost figure of the world, Theodore Roosevelt?

Senator Beveridge: The Republican party must always be the here-and-now party, the up-to-date party, the party of conservative advance.

The combined intelligence and massed morality of the American people is the wisest and purest force beneath the skies.

The Republican party is seeking to safeguard the health, education and morals of the working women and children of the republic. In this movement Indiana is the leader.

The Republican party stands as the defender of all honest capital on the one hand and the protector of all peaceful labor on the other hand.

The people demand not only that our principles shall be right, our purposes uplifting to the masses, but that our plans and policies shall work out practical results.

We cannot permit civilization to relapse into savagery beneath our eyes and ask of the world and history the criminal's question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Senator Hemenway: The Republican party will enter this campaign asking only a comparison of its results with those of a Democratic administration.

Will the farmers swap their bank accounts for mortgages? Will they turn down the administrations of McKinley and Roosevelt for the administration of Grover Cleveland?

Our governors have been men of high character, and today we have as governor of our state a man who has the courage to do right, and this convention will endorse the courageous administration of Governor Hanly.

When we consider that, of the twenty-one leading industries in the state of Indiana there are 4,531 factories with a capital of over $197,000,000 employing over 103,000 wage-earners, to whom are paid annually more than $50,000,000, we then see how important it is to the prosperity of a state and a nation that we have such policies as will give these great industries an opportunity to employ labor and sell their product.

Governor Hanly: Liberty is the foundation of American institutions—liberty, mark you, not license—liberty, limited by law.

The law has been more generally observed and respected and a great moral uplift has come to our people.

But there has grown up a system of handling funds in the custody of public officials for the benefit of the public rather than the benefit of the public. This system is wrong in principle and in many instances has been ruinous in practice.

Write into your platform the hot blood of moral purposes, the unquenchable spirit of God's simple truth, and your position will be impregnable.

If there is one among you who doubts either the wisdom or the righteousness of the law enforcement policy of the administration, I ask you in all sincerity and in all kindness to go back to your own firesides and in the presence of your wife and children re-examine the premises upon which that doubt rests.

Congressman Charles B. Landis: Two problems have faced the Republican party in the last ten years. One was the Democratic problem of adversity and the other was the Republican problem of prosperity.

Beware the advance agents of political hysteria. The yellow newspaper and the yellow magazine are now to the fore. Have confidence in the national house and senate, in the vice president whom we will elevate to the presidency, and in the president.

Under the Republican administration there is all kinds of work for all kinds of men. Under the Democratic administration there was no kind of work for no kind of men.

The tariff is a matter of principle and not of schedules.
